It was Cromwell's race from post to finish, the St. Blaise four-year-old holding his field perfectly safe after passing the haif-mile post and winning without a drive privo lengths. Keefe's industrious work with Pearl Song landed the long shot from the Pay stable in second place after a long, whipping drive. Hanwell, the favorite, was not dangerous at any singe of the race. Agitator pulled up very lame.

The special race for two-year-olds, in which sunsy Slope and Fanmure started at six furlongs, was simply a big gallow for Jere Dunn's bloodlike improving filly, who won, pulled up, in 1:165. Itsel, instead of Fanmure, were to run in the Faturity next Saturday, many horsemen would like her chance. The fast filly was bred by J. N. Camden, Jr., son of Senator Camden of West Virginia. She was the only winning favorite of the day.

With St. Anthony a lukewarm favorite in the steeplechase, Red Pat galloped over the course in command of the field, and won casily at the finish. Golden Gate kept within two or three lengths of the leader all the way, finishing second. In a close finish Woodford Isaded third, a short head in front of the favorite. Summaries:

LAWRENCE, Aug. 12.—Races in the 2:22 trotting and 2:23 pacing classes were on the card here to-day. The former had five starters and the winner was Judge McCue, who earned all he got. The first heat went to Church Belle, although she was being crowded by both Wistaria and Mystic Girl when an accident happened to the two latter. The three horses got mixed up at the turn into the stretch, and Mystic Girl fell. Her driver, Clark, got a bad tumble and the horse had to be withdrawn. This mishap made Church Belle an easy winner. Nashville, which are always more extensively dealt in than other stocks for which there is an international market, sustained net losses of 1% and 1% per cent. respectively. Sugar Refining, which was the most active of the four stocks that contributed more than 10,000 shares each to the total transactions, sustained a net loss of 1% per cent. Throughout the remainder of the list the net losses ranged from fractions to 114 per cent. for American Tobacco and United States Leather preferred.

The market, as a whole, was very narrow, and the reluctance to trade was as pronounced in the bond department as in the stock list. Of news affecting values there was none, and of the market, as a whole, it can be said that it simply reflected a disposition on the part of professional operators to be prepared for any untoward effect of to-night's political demonstration. A decline of nearly a cent an ounce in the price of silver bullion, on light transactions, was generally commented upon as indicative of an utter lack of confidence on the part of the genuine free silverites in the success of their cause. The price of silver simply followed the London market, which is weak because of the cessation of a demand for the metal from India and other Asiatic countries. Although money on call was easier, there was no improvement in the time money and commercial paper market. Sterling exchange continues very dull and only fairly steady at about $4.8714 for sight bills at the close of business. Final sales compare with those of yesterday as follows: Aug. 11. Aug. 12.
